

Ark Eden CAS 2022-23

Become an Eco-Camp Activity Leader!

Ark Eden's 2022-2023 CAS project will concentrate on developing leadership skills within a range of areas with all Creative, Action and Service components included

The principle component of this year's CAS project will be to train you to manage and lead eco-activities with groups of young children aged 5 – 11 years, attending Ark Eden Holiday Eco-Camps at October half-term, Christmas and CNY holidays, Easter and summer.

Skills that you will acquire:

- Leadership, management, teamwork and communication
- Effective teaching and learning methods
- All elements of safety required in transporting and managing groups of young children
- Planning and preparing logistics for children's eco-group activities
- Managing resources, setting up and down programs
- Reflecting on process and results

Ark Eden has been running eco-holiday camps since 2008. The camps focus on care for the environment, connection with nature and animals and are designed to bring out the adventurous, curious and compassionate side of children. During the school holiday breaks, we invite you to become part of our competent and effective team, learning all the skills set above.

This project is designed for Year 9 upwards. Students will need to attend a one training day prior to the holiday work with the small children and to attend a minimum of five days of the holiday camps.

There is a fee for this CAS activity as Ark Eden commits to offering you both short and long term support. You will benefit from

- Regular staff training
- References and internships if needed
- Useful skills in a range of disciplines from experiential education, Forest School, carpentry etc
- Forming useful networks and connections
- Paid work - $600 to $800 a day for experienced leaders
